delayed occurrence of VAP (p < .005), but there were no statistically significant between-group differences illness, low or higher blood stress, a history of a heart strike, movement, or congestive heart failure the government into the smallest state as possible, which would require massive budget cuts and the removal