it was estimated that 15 percent of all deaths not occurring in patients admitted for end-of-life care were preventable (900 lives annually across the ascension health system)